TRURSDAY EVENING, DEC. 18.

COSTLY DINNERS. - | Detroit Free Press New York Letter.]-Speaking of millions, I see that the Bonarza man, J. W. Mackey, who left here the other day to join his family in Paris. where they live at the rate of nearly a million a year, it is said, is set down as good for $60,-000,000. This is the calimate of his friend, Congressman Daggett, who came with him to New York. Mackey entertained Gen. Grant and a few others at a regular Luculius feast, at Dalmonico's, before he took the steamer for Liverpool. For the few persons who sat down to it the spread was one of the costilest that Delmonio) ever got up. Grant has had some other feasts lately in the same place, and more are on the cards. It is hardly necessary to say, per-haps, that they didne't cost him anything. We have several rich man who, somehow, seem to think it a very great honor to have Gen. Grant at dinner. He is invited out about four times a week, and he hardly over declines. The gotting up of elaborate dinners is steadily growing as a social custom. An ecormous amount of money is now spent in this way, and no doubt a great deal of thorough satisfaction is or joyed. It is not uncommon, I am told, to get up a dinner for half a dezen to a dezen persons that east fall $50 a head. One Fifth avenue millionsire is said to have recently drawn a check for $2,500 for a single entertainment in his dining room. The various kinds of entertainments is the upper circles grow more expensive every year. In many cases the main thing seems to make them cost as much as possible. Money never was more plentiful among those who are supposed always to have an abundance of it than it is now, and it must at least be said of them that they spend it very freely.

You are cordially invited to examine the large variety of Parlor Stoves, Cook Stoves and Ranges, Housefurnishing Goods, Christmas Toys, &c., which are offered cheap by STANSBURY & BRO., Central Stove House, McBurney's Building. ney's Building.
